

TRAIN

Training is a critical component of the Avocent Professional Services program. Avocent offers customers in depth training on our solutions. Training focuses on best practices and the most effective way to use Avocent products. Train your IT professionals to utilize the full power of your solution.

Benefits

- Maximize purchase value
- Improve user efficiency
- Utilize full solution functionality

Training Programs

Avocent Global Training offers regional classes, instructor-led training at one of our facilities, or web-based training from your desktop.

Instructor-led Training – Custom

Avocent's experienced, world-class instructors provide customized technical courses at your facilities. Students attending training will receive detailed student guides and experience hands-on lab exercises designed to get the most out of every learning experience. Custom training programs range from 1 to 3 days in duration.

Course 350: DSView® 3 management software and supported appliances

Instructor-led Training – Pre-scheduled

Avocent's experienced, world-class instructors provide a range of technical courses. Students attending training will receive detailed student guides and experience hands-on lab exercises designed to get the most out of every learning experience.

Course 351: DSView 3 management software and supported appliances - Fundamentals

Course 352: DSView 3 management software and supported appliances - Advanced

Concurrent training

On-site hands-on training is available to show you how to maximize the potential of your newly implemented Avocent solution.

Online - Virtual Classroom

Attend live on-line training to acquire your Avocent product knowledge from the comfort of your own desk. The Webinars promote faster and more efficient Avocent deployments coupled with the long-term benefits of reduced IT operational costs, increased IT asset and personnel productivity. Details of our training schedule and curriculum are available at www.avocent.com/services.

Service Delivery

The Avocent Training department is responsible for the delivery of all curriculum-driven training programs.

How the Programs work

When you purchase a Training program, the Avocent training department will contact you to confirm your booking and go through the details of your training requirements where applicable (custom training courses only).

How to Order

Avocent training courses are listed on the Avocent web site. You can register for our courses online today. Payment can be made online during registration, or through your Avocent reseller.

For more information or pricing on any of these programs please contact your local Avocent representative or go to www.avocent.com/services